Course Description: This course is an advanced level study of the behavioral, educational and psychological problems displayed by children and adolescents. The emphasis of this course is on how these problems are influenced by biological, social, cultural, family and situational factors. Evaluation and treatment perspectives will be explored. By the end of the course, students will be able to apply concepts learned in class to a wide variety of employment situations. This course is requirement for students pursuing the certificate in juvenile justice. It further serves as a Psychology or social science elective for students pursuing the Associate's Degree in Human services. It transfers well to most 4 year institutions.

Academic Ethics:

At Middlesex Community College, we expect the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic dishonesty is prohibited in accordance with the Board of Trustees' Proscribed Conduct Policy found in Section 5.2.1 of the board of trustees' Policy manual. This policy prohibits cheating on examinations, unauthorized collaboration on assignments, unauthorized access to examinations or course materials, plagiarism, and other proscribed activities. Plagiarism is defined as the use of another's ideas or phrase(s) and presenting those ideas as your own, either intentionally or unintentionally. The use of Website or library materials without proper citation is a form of academic dishonesty and will not be tolerated. Students found guilty of academic dishonesty will receive a "Failing" grade in the course.

Grading/Evaluation:

Weekly Discussion Board Participation 20% Each week you will be assigned a discussion question that requires your response. In order to receive full credit for the discussion board, you must log on a minimum of three days weekly and respond to the current question as well as interact with your classmates. You must respond to at least two other postings in order to receive full credit. You will be graded on how completely you answer the assigned discussion question and by the quality of your responses to the other postings.

Weekly Discussions (15 points)

Questions for a week are posted on the weekly discussion board. You are required to answer all questions and comment at least to two responses posted by others. For all the questions, you may need to research references such as journals, articles, books, Internet resources to support your opinions. For multiple questions, you need to write your answers of a question in a separate paragraph.

You will receive 15 points for fully answering the questions and responding to others. You are highly recommended to write your answers in a Word file and save it. Then you copy the text and paste it in the discussion message window. The discussion evaluation is composed with two parts, first part relates to your answers to the questions, which is 12 points maximum, and the second part is how you respond to others, which is 3 points maximum.

Part I. Points for the Answers to the Questions (12 Points)

If one cannot state a matter clearly enough so that even an intelligent twelve-year-old can understand it, one should remain within the cloistered walls of the university and laboratory until one has a better grasp of one's subject.
