Uses in the Classroom

• Lecture Capture

• Flipped classroom (Pre-recorded Lectures)

  • “Flipped classroom (also flip teaching or reverse teaching) is a teaching model in which the traditional lecture and homework elements of a class or course are flipped. Instead of having students sit through lectures during class, instructors record and assign them to be watched as homework.”

• Student projects- (Record to local drive only)

• Professional Development
Data Storage and FERPA

• Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

  "States (are) to use reasonable methods to ensure the security of their information technology (IT) solutions."

• Swivl as a recording tool allows for local device storage

• Swivl.com as a company allows for password protected cloud-based storage
