Requirements: Six requirements are necessary for successful course completion. The due dates for each assignment will be announced. The requirements are:

- A Business Memo/Letter packet
- A Written Business Report
- An Oral Presentation/PowerPoint
- In-house Publication
- Midterm Assessment
- Final Assessment

You will receive a packet detailing course requirements. Each activity has specific objectives, format, grading procedures and expectations. All requirements must be completed using a word processor and a laser printer. Be certain that each requirement is submitted on time and are of a quality that you are proud to put your name to.

All requirements must be submitted in the specified format on or before the due date, at the beginning of class. If a student is late to class on the day an assignment is due, the assignment will be deemed late, and will be reduced by one letter grade. A paper submitted after deadline will not be accepted, nor will it be graded. If you know that you will be absent on the day a requirement is due, you must arrange in advance with the instructor.

Evaluation methods (exams, term papers, projects, etc.), percentages towards final grades, and relation to course objectives:

Students work will be evaluated based on the following criteria:

• Discussions	N/A
• Homework/Class Assignments	50%
• Projects	30%
Final	20%

100%

Final grades will be determined by applying the percentages listed above to the work submitted. A student should retain all assignments for the semester. In the event that a student disagrees with the grade he/she earned, the student must produce all work to support the contention that a grade was incorrectly awarded. If a student is unable to produce all work, the instructor's grade book will be considered accurate.

Teacher's Responsibilities to Students:

- I will be prepared to teach each class each day we are in session.
- I will treat each student with dignity and respect
- I will be accessible to all students who need help and will assist them to find appropriate tutorial assistance, if necessary.
- I will attempt to make all assignments clear and concise and grade and return student's work in a timely fashion.
- I will be available during office hours to address student's concerns.

Student's Responsibilities to the Course

- You will be responsible to prepare for each class session (all readings complete and assignments done)
- You will be responsible to have all written assignments or oral presentations ready on the dates required.
- You will be expected to treat each other and the instructor with respect
- You will be expected to conduct yourself in an appropriate manner while you are in attendance in this course.
- You will be responsible for the reasonable care of the computer equipment used in conjunction with this course.

ADA Accommodations Statement

Students with physical or learning disabilities who may require accommodations are encouraged to contact the Counseling Office. After disclosing the nature of the disability, students are urged to discuss their needs with individual instructors. This should be done at the beginning of each semester. Instructors, in conjunction with appropriate college officials, will provide assistance and/or accommodations only to those students who have completed this process.

Preparation and Study Time: You must prepare for each class by reading all assigned material and completing all homework activities prior to class. This course requires students to spend a significant amount of time outside of the classroom in individual and/or group study. At least one - two hours should be spent studying outside of the class for every hour spent in the classroom. Students who regularly prepare for class tend to successfully achieve their academic goals.

Participation:

You are expected to attend each class session and to be prompt. You must have your textbook, homework, a notebook, and a writing instrument. Each student is expected to contribute meaningfully to class discussions. The wide range of interests and experiences held by class members will reflect the diversity of today's business organizations. We can all learn more from each other than from the instructor alone. The professor will evaluate each student's participation and contribution to the class. Your grade for class participation will be based on the content and quality of participation (rather than frequency), and initiatives to enrich discussions. A student who attends and participates regularly will receive the maximum assessment for this portion of his/her grade. A student who attends regularly but chooses to not participate, or attends infrequently, will receive the minimum assessment.

. Withdrawal:

A student may withdraw from any course after the add/drop period, until the end of the 11th week of the semester. This deadline is published in the Academic Calendar. A student must take the responsibility for initiating and completing a withdrawal. It is in the best interest of the student to discuss a withdrawal with his/her academic advisor, and/or the instructor of the course.

If for any reason, a student is unable to complete the course, he/she must follow the college policy and officially withdraw from the course. Appropriate forms are available at the Records Office. If a student does not withdraw, he/she will be awarded the letter grade earned. Once a grade is officially recorded with the Registrar, the grade will NOT be changed at a later date. There will be NO exceptions to this policy.

Incomplete:

An Incomplete is a temporary grade assigned when course work is missing, and the student agrees to complete the course requirements. Although the student may request an "I", the faculty member is not required to honor the request. If an "I" is assigned, the faculty member will set forth, in writing, a description of the work to be completed, the date by which the work must be submitted (ie. the end of the 10th week of the next standard semester), and a statement that the "I" will change to an appropriate letter grade if the work is not completed within the specified period of time.

A student will be issued an Incomplete ONLY if he/she makes direct contact with the instructor, prior to Final Exam Week. An "I" will be given only for work unfinished because of illness, accident, or other unavoidable absence, and when the instructor determines that the student has a reasonable chance of successfully completing the required work.

Course Syllabus

Spring 2018: Course opens – Wednesday 1/17

This document includes important information about each of the modules that make up this course, module objectives, and summaries of each module's gradable activities and associated deadlines. Please carefully review the "Let's Get Started" learning module for additional important information about this course, such as the course overview and Student Contract, instructor contact information, detailed grading policies, course navigation information, etc. Below is a summary of the most important grading information and the requirements to successfully complete this course.

In order to be successful in this course

By the last day of the course, you must:

- Satisfactorily complete all of the gradable work in the course. The total possible points is 1000, which includes all possible points for gradable assignments, weekly discussions, gradable reflective journals, and the final reflective paper), AND
- Satisfactorily complete and submit the final interactive project. This is mandatory--you cannot pass this class without it, AND
- Demonstrate mastery in your practice shell of the technical proficiencies listed below. Successful completion of all of your assignments will be considered mastery. If you do not successfully complete all technical assignments, you will be required to demonstrate proficiency before the end of the course. No additional points will be awarded for this work.

Each assignment in the course is graded using a rubric with specific point values for various steps and sub steps that must be completed for each assignment, so you should carefully review and print out this information. This enables each participant to easily determine where they may have lost points for a given assignment. This approach also contributes to a high degree of consistency in grading, by different instructors. The rubric used for discussion forums and journals are much simpler and simply assess whether the discussion/journal instructions were addressed directly and specifically, whether any minimum word count requirements were met, and whether the discussion or journal posts were submitted on time. are used for the assignments and discussions in this course.

If you fail to submit an assignment or required discussion or journal post, you will receive a zero. Partial credit is not awarded for late submissions.

Details of exactly what is expected in regard to grading for the various activities in this course are included in the "Let's Get Started" module. The required due dates for all gradable activities are included in the Syllabus and in the "gradable activities" page in each module. Please read them carefully.

Figuring out “Where You Stand” in the BBG 115 course

I use the "1000 Point Grading System" in this course and one nice thing about it is that it's pretty easy for you to be able to figure out how you're doing at any point in the class.

Here's how you can do the math to figure it out for yourself. It's easy to do!

1. Look at My Grades and at the current “Overall Total” at the bottom.
2. Look at how many UNGRADED items still remain and tally up how many “potential points” are still outstanding for the assignments, discussions, and reflective journals in future modules, plus the (MANDATORY!) Final Exam. The number of possible points for EVERY Module is listed in the syllabus
3. Add up your current “overall total points” plus the number of “possible points” for items you have not yet been graded on.
4. The number you come up with will tell you how much “wiggle room” you have in terms of the number of points you need to earn between the module you're in and the end of the course!
